HOW IS IT WITH US?

The Ports of Entry Constantly Under Strict Surveillance to Keep Out the Deadly Germ.

For another year the country may be regarded as safe against the cholera. Up to the opening of the month of August it had not appeared in any country of Western Europe, and the autumnal weather will prevent it from approaching the European ports with which New York is in communication. The Health Officer of the Port, who made all preparations early in the spring for dealing with immigrants bound hither from the infected districts of Russia, believes that any danger which might thus be incurred has passed away, and though the Jewish Russians are yet closely inspected upon their arrival at Quarantine, the inspection is rather for general sanitary purposes than for any apprehension of the cholera. Advice upon the subject have been received from all parts of the world by the authorities of the Marine Hospital service, and Dr. Wyman believes that if there ever was any ground for fear, there is not now the least.

Dr. R. S. Tracy of the New York Health Department, when interviewed by a reporter, gave it as his opinion that there will never again be a cholera scare here like that of 1893, and that there is safety for the city so long as sanitary laws are well enforced and wholesome water is abundantly supplied. Even if a few infected immigrants were to reach Quarantine there would hardly be any danger of the disease becoming epidemic, for the means of stamping it out are at the command of the governing powers. The health authorities of Germany, France and England are now confident of their ability to deal with it promptly and successfully. The Germans have this year had experiences even more satisfactory than those of last year, and have been able to guard their country by methods as scientific as they are easily applied. Dr. Tracy, in talking upon the subject, explains the germ theory of the disease with that fullness of knowledge which is derived from long study of it. "No cholera scare hereafter," he says.

During the present year, and up to this time, cholera has existed in European Russia, Arabia, India, China and Japan. It is unfortunate that trustworthy statistics concerning it cannot be obtained from Russia, or from any of the other countries in which it exists, with the exception of Japan. It ravaged several of the Western Russian provinces last summer; it did not entirely disappear last winter, and it has been epidemic since the early spring season. During the month of July it has prevailed largely in the provinces of Volhynia and Podolia, near the territory of Austria, and also to some extent in the Vistula provinces, on the confines of Prussia. It is said to be of an unusually malignant type, and its victims are speedily carried off. In order to keep it out of Germany the Berlin Government has established a "sanitary cordon" along the frontier, and all travelers from Russia are again this year, as they were last, subjected to a most rigorous inspection. Austria also has made some provision for guarding the border, but it is much less complete than that made by Germany, and there have been many cases of the disease in Galicia and Bukovina. The cholera appeared in Arabia, on the borders of the Red Sea, early in the spring, brought there, as in other years, by the Mohammedan pilgrims from India to Mecca. Alarming accounts of its fatality were sent out in the spring months and up to June, but nothing has
